DIRECTOR			1-2 FYI As per our telecon, through a hand count I have verified both the on-duty and in-process statistics reported for photogrammetrists and mathematicians. PHID is processing a large number of photogrammetrists because we are still unable to recruit qualified photogrammetric technicians. Until a source has been found, [ ] wishes to recruit additional photogrammetrists from the rather steady flow of applicants. In view of the six technician vacancies and the normal level of applicant cancellations, the number of applicants in process is not excessive. As far as the mathematicians in process, AID, based on past experience, expects a high turnover in the near future since many of the personnel on duty will have reached the journeyman level and will begin to seek other jobs. To provide itself with a cushion, the division is recruiting. For the same reasons I outlined for the photogrammetrists, the number in process is not excessive.
